Improve Your Reading and Listening Skills With This Strategy

Reading and listening are both powerful ways to learn a language.

They are also powerful goals of learning a language.

We want to read, we want to understand what we hear.

We want to understand movies.

And yet the fact of reading in the language and listening in the language helps us learn the language.

But then the question always comes up, should we read first or listen first?

Or people say, I don't understand anything.

How can I listen?

I don't know any words.

How can I read?

Launch like Steve Jobs: 7 Ways to Build Buzz for Your Next Product Launch
Apple product launches have become the stuff of legend.

The iPad sold 300,000+ WiFi-only units on launch day. Within three days, the iPhone 4 sold 1.7 million units. The iPhone 3G sold over a million units on its launch weekend.

Clearly, Steve Jobs knows how to launch a product for maximum sales. You might even wonder if you can capture a bit of his magic to kickstart your own promotions.
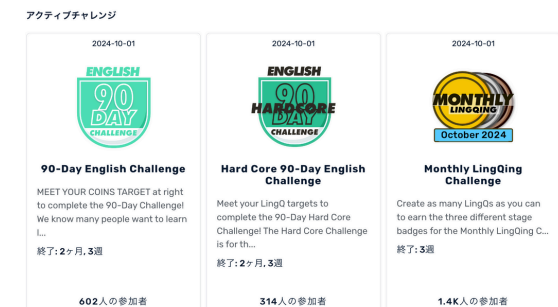

And I believe you can. While Apple's reputation and sometimes-rabid fanbase obviously plays a large part in the success of their launches, there are also a number of strategies virtually any company can employ to make their own product launch a huge success: 1. Put the Focus on the People, Not the Product Rarely do you hear Steve Jobs talking about the various features of Apple products. Standing on stage, he doesn't push the speed of the iPhone's processor or the screen resolution, for example. He knows most people don't
